

Edinburgh's first community turbine?

PEDAL and GREENER LEITH NEED YOUR HELP!

To support us
please go to

www.energysshare.com,
search for
'Portobello'
and click to support our initiative!

We all use electricity, and we all pay for it.

Why not generate electricity renewably and locally, and put any money made straight back into community carbon reduction and job creating initiatives?

PEDAL - Portobello Transition Town and Greener Leith are negotiating to develop the first community owned urban turbine in the UK on the Seafield Waste Water Treatment Works.

The turbine would power between 300-1300 homes, and save up to 2,000 tonnes of CO2 a year. All money raised would fund local projects in Portobello, Leith and Craightinny, and would pave the way for groups elsewhere to do similar things.

This could be up and running in 2013 if local people back it and if we can get funding for 12 month wind trials.

To get funding for this, we need lots of people to go to energysshare.com, search for 'Portobello' and click to support our initiative (or go straight to <http://tiny.cc/porty-leith-wind>) The most popular initiative by June 30th is the one most likely to be funded by Energysshare to move on to the next stage - please log on and help us!

Edinburgh's first community turbine?

PEDAL and GREENER LEITH NEED YOUR HELP!

To support us
please go to

www.energysshare.com,
search for
'Portobello'
and click to
support our initiative!

We all use electricity, and we all pay for it.

Why not generate electricity renewably and locally, and put any money made straight back into community carbon reduction and job creating initiatives?

PEDAL - Portobello Transition Town and Greener Leith are negotiating to develop the first community owned urban turbine in the UK on the Seafield Waste Water Treatment Works.

The turbine would power between 300-1300 homes, and save up to 2,000 tonnes of CO2 a year. All money raised would fund local projects in Portobello, Leith and Craightinny, and would pave the way for groups elsewhere to do similar things.

This could be up and running in 2013 if local people back it and if we can get funding for 12 month wind trials.

To get funding for this, we need lots of people to go to energysshare.com, search for 'Portobello' and click to support our initiative (or go straight to <http://tiny.cc/porty-leith-wind>) The most popular initiative by June 30th is the one most likely to be funded by Energysshare to move on to the next stage - please log on and help us!